

My buddy just didn't come home one night and it's lonely out there. I really miss eating with someone, making them laugh, taking walks and playing.

NOT looking to be tied out back or ignored. I have a better than average vocabulary, listen well, and enjoy just being with my buddy. A smile will light me up... you ought to see me when you say I'm a "good boy", or you "Love me", or you touch me with that same Love! If you're interested in meeting me...
